Acerinox achieves the rating level A of Global Reporting Initiative

Acerinox has presented its 2012 Sustainability Report to the analysis services of the Global Reporting Initiative, the most prestigious certification agency in the topic, who has concluded that the Report complies the merits and requirements to obtain the rating level A, the highest one.

In February, the Carbon Disclosure Project attributed to Acerinox an 83/B rating in 2012, which is one of the best scores in its sector worldwide.

In both classifications the efforts made by Acerinox during the last year to be among the most transparent companies, socially responsible and environmentally friendly have been recognized.
