In case the shareholders are legal persons, the company must receive a copy of the document which empowers the faculties of the physical person who signs the delegation card or performs the voting in the name of the legal entity.

In case of delegation of the representation in favour of a person different from the Board of Directors, a copy of the card must be given to the representative to deliver it at the access door to the building where the General Shareholders Meeting is being held, together with the identification card or passport, two hours before the start of the meeting.
